The RAAF Amberley Aviation Heritage Centre (RAAFAAHC) is situated within the security zone of RAAF Base Amberley and as such access by the public may be suspended at any time and without notice.

A requirement for being granted access to the RAAFAAHC on public open days is that all visitors aged 16 and over must produce photographic identification issued by a Federal or State authority.

This access request form is only valid for use on the day of use on designated RAAFAAHC open days, or when instructed by RAAFAAHC staff.

Access to RAAF Base Amberley and the RAAFAAHC will not be granted without completion of this application and proof of identity being provided to RAAFAAHC staff. This access application must account for all passengers per vehicle and is to be signed by the driver.

 By signing this form the driver agrees to take responsibility for the vehicle occupants, to abide by all directions and instructions given by RAAFAAHC Staff, to remain within the designated areas and only take photographs within the Heritage Centre. Failure to comply may result in access to RAAF Base Amberley being withdrawn.
